

30 WAYS

Palmetto Family has helped make South Carolina great!

Marriage is constitutionally defined as for one man and one woman.

An ultrasound must be offered before an abortion can be performed.

Pornography is restricted on cable television.

Unborn children are persons when victims of crime.

Public bodies may pray however they wish.

The Ten Commandments may be displayed in public buildings.

Couples may enjoy a $50 tax credit for pre-marital counseling.

Students may receive graduation credit for off-campus Bible study.

The Bible may be taught as history and literature in public schools.

Gambling-cockfighting carry new penalties.

Biology standards must allow critique of evolution.

Supreme Court justices who respect the Constitution have been elected.

“Mistake of Age” will no longer be a defense for sexual predators.

The Age of Consent is now clear in the law and the SC Constitution.

The abortion reflection period is now twenty-four times longer.

Atheists have dropped cases against three towns for their public prayers.

Sex between teachers and students is a separate crime.

Internet predators are banned from Facebook in SC.

Students must be allowed to express their faith at the pole and in class.

11-year olds are not required to be vaccinated for sexual diseases.

Sales restrictions on alcohol have been preserved.

Private kindergartens have been protected.

Sunday sales restrictions have been preserved.

Restrictions on lottery advertising have been retained.

Catawba Indian gambling schemes have been defeated.

Restrictions on private gambling-video poker have been preserved.

Efforts to change alimony laws to help the unfaithful spouse have been defeated.

Abstinence-based sexuality education funding has been preserved.

The confidentiality of non-profit donors has been protected.

The display of live Christmas trees in churches is allowed.

www.palmettofamily.org